62.1% of all bankruptcies in 2007 were due to medical costs. Most were comfortable members of the middle class. 75% had health insurance. Because of deductibles, co-pays and unexpected increased living expenses, their money ran out.¹ Our Critical Illness insurance benefit can help ease worries with one, lump sum cash payment that can be used for anything, including bills not covered by other insurance. Because our Critical Illness benefit is a rider to a group life insurance product, if the critical illness benefits are not utilized, we will pay the insured's qualified beneficiary the death benefit.
